

Come join your neighbors and friends (and meet new ones) this Saturday, June 6, 2009, for a work project in the Parley's Historic Nature Park at the base of the existing improved trail towards the northeast section of the park.

National Trails Day 2009

We have been requested by Salt Lake County Parks to assist in controlling the spread of thistle before the current crop goes to seed and before the construction crews enter into the area spreading the thistle seeds even further. The work parties will begin at 8:00 am to Noon on Saturday, June 6. Please bring good quality gloves, long-sleeved shirts, long-legged pants, appropriate shoes, shovel and/or hoe.

Sign in from 8:00 to 11:00 am and receive directions to the work site at the volunteer table located at the Park's entry gate, which is north of the intersections of Heritage Way (2760 South), 2700 East, and Kenton Drive.

Refreshments will be served at the PRATT information tent near the work site.
